OUR FAVORITE HIKES No 35: THE WRONG WAY HIKE

This hike was intended for Winter, and was planned to follow the Horseshoe Trail on roads from Hershey to Campbelltown. Unfortunately, after parking our cars, we picked up the yellow blazes, which appeared to be going south, but were actually going north. Where the trail left the road, it was impassable, so we simply followed the road until we could again pick up the yellow blazes. When we reached the bridge over the Swatara Creek, we realized the creek was flowing the wrong direction. Altering our route, we simply followed roads back to our cars.

A year later, we re-enacted this trip. When we reached the Swatara, Allen Zerfoss, playing his part well, asked, "Isn't the Creek flowing in the wrong direction?"

I replied, "So it is, I think we went the wrong way!" Where upon one of our inexperienced hikers burst into tears.

KUDOS

Thanks are due Susanne Donmoyer for her work in repainting the wooden PenDot A.T. signs at the PA Rtes 225 and 325 road crossings. You can actually read 'Appalachian Trail' on them now.

And thanks are also due Ron Baker, our Public Relations Committee Chairperson for his very thorough job in keeping the media abreast of hiking opportunities we offer to the public. Many new members have come to learn of our Club through Ron's efforts. After five years of continuous dedication, Ron has requested to be relieved of this duty, starting next April, and is willing to train someone else in the job. FROM THE PRESIDENT

CELLULAR PHONES: I recently read an article in the WALL STREET JOURNAL newspaper entitled: "Annoying in the City, Cell Phones are Hell in the Wilderness." The article reported on the virtues of the latest in popular hiking and trekking gear: Cellular phones and satellite global positioning systems, or GPS.

It seems more and more people are taking this portable communications equipment to the back country in lieu of maps, guidebooks and basic trail skills--and getting into trouble.

In New Hampshire's White Mountains, rangers and rescuers are complaining of unexpected side effects to the use of these devices:-- more nuisance calls and false alarms emergencies from inexperienced hikers that become lost are getting phone calls from people in the woods asking for rescues in non-emergency situations, or, worse, from people wanting advice on how to operate their own backpacking equipment.

AN EMERGENCY ON OUR SECTION OF TRAIL:

This article aroused my attention because of a recent incident on our club's section of the Appalachian Trail, where four inexperienced day hikers were caught out on a rainy day/night without adequate equipment and apparel and had to be rescued by State Police and local volunteer firemen. These hikers were "scouting" for a hike they were planning on leading for a local youth group. They were ill-prepared for their hike, lacking proper rain gear, flashlights, and/or knowledge of the trail and its difficulties.

Families at home notified authorities of the missing hikers later that evening and a rescue mission was mounted, that included the cutting of the gate at the PA Rte 225 Trail-head parking area. The hikers were found and escorted out of the woods the next morning by the volunteer firemen. They were cold and wet, but, hopefully, aware of what they did wrong. They indicated they would not be leading the youth group on the hike as the trail was much too difficult.

All of this leads to the point that proper preparedness before attempting a hike can not only provide for a much more pleasing experience in the outing, but could also save the time and expense of needless rescues by agencies and volunteers. It is very important for the novice hiker to seek out the information and guidance needed before attempting what could become a very unpleasant experience on the trail.

BENEFITS OF ORGANIZED HIKING CLUBS:

Fortunately new hikers can obtain the guidance they need from trail organizations such as ours. We have organized hikes with experienced leaders and participants that are only too willing to share their accumulated trail savvy. And, as a club, we do provide training from time to time on how to become a successful hike leader.

As a club, we should continue to help educate those new to our favorite recreation, in the proper use of the trails and trail facilities, as well as in preparedness of themselves in the rigors of hiking. I encourage everyone in the Club to help out in our endeavors to teach proper trail etiquette: "LEAVE NO TRACE" practices in the backcountry, and self-preparedness for our new members and guests and to the general public in the use of hiking trails and facilities.

STORM EMERGENCY IN SHANANDOAH NATIONAL PARK: As many of you know by now, our scheduled work week with the Mid-Atlantic Trail Crew was cancelled due to the need for the crew to help out in the Shenandoah National Park after the destruction and flooding caused by Hurricane Fran in early September. On Friday, Sep 6, 1996, 12 inches of rain was recorded at Big Meadows Campground. The entire Park was closed to everyone, with thousands of trees down throughout the Park.

S.A.T.C. will apply for a week of crew work again next Autumn. A small "word of mouth" work party was organized to work on our Peter's Mountain Shelter, on Sep 22-23, during which we rebuilt the front step and restained some of the shelter floor.

KTA MEETING NEXT SPRING: S.A.T.C. will host the hiking program at next Spring's Keystone Trails Association meeting at Camp Hebron, located just east of Halifax, along Peter's Mountain, on the weekend of Apr 4-6, 1997. Mark your calendars now for this coming event.

There will be need for quite a few hike leaders for that weekend, as some 12-15 hikes will be necessary for the usual large turnout from across the State that attend these meetings. I hope our hike leaders respond favorably to the challenge of putting on a great hiking program. More detailed information will be in the Spring issue of the BUSHWACK BULLETIN. Anyone interested in leading a hike or excursion that weekend can contact me at 657-8281.

Happy hiking everyone. See ya at the Xmas Party,

Jeff Buehler, President

BACKWARD GLANCES

WYOMING/MONTANA SUMMER 1996

From start to finish, we couldn't have had a better time. Spectacular weather followed us with only one evening shower during the two week period. The profusion of wild flowers welcomed all of us to the Tetons and the rest of the trip was up hill, literally, from there. Great food, terrific camp sites (in Yellowstone we had a large part of a campground all to ourselves), breathtaking scenery, and, of course, wonderful trails.

Particularly memorable was the drive over the Beartooth highway (I have a picture of the bear's tooth) from Yellowstone to Red Lodge, MT. But what made the trip so successful was the congenial group of people who participated. Everyone contributed to its success and I'd like to thank you all for making it the best trip yet.

Another trip, described elsewhere in this issue of the BUSHWACK BULLETIN, will be scheduled for next Summer, with more wilderness and backpacking orientation.

Jon Kohn

SAFTY ALERT

With this issue of the BUSHWACK BULLETIN, we are entering Deer Hunting Season, which runs from Dec 2 to 21 and Dec 26 to Jan 11.

We urge all hikers who are on the trails during the week days, to use extreme caution. Hunters are required to wear 250 square inches of fluorescent orange when hunting. It might be a good idea for our hikers to do likewise when hiking during the week during this hazzardous season.

While, by the time you receive this issue, the fall turkey season is past, but we still have the Spring 1997 Gobbler season in the offing from May 3 to 31, 1997. This, too, is a hazardous season. Not only are hunters required to wear the 250 square inches of fluorescent orange, but they are urged to eliminate red, white, blue, and black from their clothing, as turkeys wear this colors, and this increases the dangers of becoming a target.

We urge all of our members to be especially cautious during these seasons.

OUR FAVORITE HIKES

We regret to say that we are running out of ideas for "Our Favorite Hikes," and we solicit the help of our readers. We did this once before, and Bob Keys and Jane Keeney came to our assistance. Now, we appeal to our readers once more.

If you know of a hike that will be of interest to our readers, get in touch with the Editor. It don't have to be in the immediate area, but you must be able to describe the hike, and help the Editor plot it on a Quad.

If you can assist with this, call the Editor, at 545-4089.

BACKWARD GLANCES COLUMN REVIVED

When Earl Shaffer, our first Editor, organized the "BUSHWACK BULLETIN" he established two features: "LOOKING FORWARD" which is basicly our schedule, and "BACKWARD GLANCES," in which the hike leaders and/or the members would write up the trips.

Backward Glances was a very popular column, but somewhere along the line, one of the Editors saw fit to eliminate it. With this issue, we are reviving this feature, and asking the members to feel free to write up any interesting hike, vacation or outing, for the benefit of our readers. It will be published under this column.

DEADLINES FOR THE NEXT BUSHWACK BULLETIN

ARTICLES Jan 11, 1997
HIKE SCHEDULE: Jan 18, 1997

The next issue of the BUSHWACK BULLETIN is scheduled to arrive about Feb 20, 1997. Should you fail to receive your copy by Feb 22, call Clarence Fredlund, 564-1447.

DCNR CELEBRATES
A YEAR OF STEWARDSHIP

By John C Oliver
Secretary of the Department of Conservation and Natural Resources

One year ago, the future got brighter for Pennsylvania's natural resources and community conservation programs. In fulfilling a major campaign promise, Gov. Tom Ridge signed legislation creating the Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (DCNR) effective July 1, 1995. As a result, our state parks, state forests, rivers, greenways, trails, community parks and heritage areas gained a cabinet-level voice. I am proud to be the first leader of this great new agency, an agency that managessome of the finish public lands and waters in the country.

Even if you aren't familiar with DCNR, there's a good chance you've had some involvement with the lands we oversee and the programs we operate. More than likely there's a state park within 25 miles of your home. You might enjoy the thousands of miles of recreational trails we have on our 2.1 million acres of state forest land. Chances are, a community in your county got a DCNR grant this year to help build a playground, upgrade a pool, or protect vital open space.

The scope of this new agency may surprise you. DCNR is about conservation of the natural integrity of our state parks and forests, as well as jobs, tourism, cultural heritage, communities and recreation. DCNR touches many lives--from helping communities realize their local recreation and conservation goals, to playing a key role in the tourism industry.

Our first year has been one of action. Pennsylvanians have entrusted us as the stewards of our 2.4 million acres of state parks and state forest lands. We take that mission seriously. Being good stewards means taking care of what you have. For years the state's park and forest facilities have not had the full attention they deserved. They were in the shadows of the state's environmental regulatory programs. Now, they're receiving full sunlight, and we are fixing what had been neglected for many decades.

Last November, Gov. Ridge launched Project Stewardship, a $100 million effort to restore and improve facilities in our state parks and forests over four years. This is the largest investment in the history of our state parks and forests. In our first year we undertook 289 construction projects under Project Stewardship--everything from bridges to roads, from marinas to swimming pools.

As stewards we must also protect our wonderful resources so they continue to provide benefits for years to come. To that end, in our first year we designated eight new natural areas in our parks, announced the formation of an Ecosystem Advisory Committee, hired a biodiversity coordinator, and began implementation of the Forest Regeneration Fund to ensure the long-term health of our state forest lands.

Another major responsibility of this agency is to help communities with local recreation and conservation projects. In December, Gov. Ridge launched our Community Conservation Partnership Initiative that provides technical assistance, training and $75 million in grants over four years. In our first year as an agency, we provided nearly $18 million to help communities build playgrounds, acquire land for open space; convert abandoned rail beds to trails; develop heritage areas; and protect river environments.

The future looks equally as busy and bright. We'll continue to work with the Department of Community and Economic Development to increase visitation to our parks, forests and heritage areas, while preserving the outdoor places valued by our visitors. We'll launch new publications; add to our World Wide Web page; implement a new centralized reservation system for our parks; expand or forest stewardship and environmental education programs; and look for more ways to improve our services and programs.

We have just begun our journey. Through strong partnerships with community groups, organizations, and business, we can accomplish our goals of protecting natural resources, fostering economic development, and providing local conservation assistance. We will work together to ensure that our precious community and natural resources are enhanced through careful planning for the future. With a firm commitment to DCNR's mission, its priorities and its initiatives, Gov. Ridge has ensured the Commonwealth's natural treasures will provide huge rewards for centuries to come.

Editor's Note: This was supposed to have been published in our last BUSHWACK BULLETIN, but arrived just after we went to press.

At this time we should like to emphasize once again, that our deadlines for articles for the BUSHWACK BULLETIN are just that. The deadlines are firm, and late arrivals will have to wait for the next issue, if they do not become stale meanwhile. Editor

MONTANA TRIP SUMMER OF 1997

The trip next Summer will focus on Montana. We will start in Red Lodge, MT, and explore the more remote areas with day hiking and/or a 3 or 4 day backpack trip in the East Rosebud Lake area. The next destination will be the Bob Marshall Wilderness in central Montana, with another 3 day backpack trip into the region. Finally, we will travel to Glacier National Park, spending a week day hiking and scheduling another backpacking trip up the Belly River Valley.

Participants should be prepared for much more primitive conditions (ie. no more showers, Laundries and cafeterias right at the campgrounds. Camping will generally be at U.S. Forest Service Campgrounds in back country locations which provide only pit toilets and cold water. In addition, hikers should be in excellent physical condition, since we will be day hiking for longer distances (13-17 miles) and backpacking in mountainous regions.

One planning session will be held in the the Spring. The trip will be scheduled for the last two weeks in July. If you are interested in participating, call me at 697-4953
